IS YOUR NAME LUCAS?
DO YOU KNOW THAT:

Lucas, an old and honored surname, had its origin in France where it was used as a personal name in ancient and mediaeval times. It is obtained from the Latin personal name Lucius which means "light." It became popular as a personal name in England after the Norman Conquest in the 11th century and frequently was anglicized to Luke. In recent centuries it has been used extensively as a surname.

William Lucas (1743-1814) was captain of Virginia troops during the Revolutionary War. He was born in Virginia and died in Lucasville, Scioto County, Ohio which was named after his family.

Augustus Lucas, a Huguenot, fled from France some time between 1699 and 1704 and settled in Newport, Rhode Island. Unlike the great majority of refugees who abandoned all of their property and arrived penniless in foreign countries, he succeeded in escaping with his family and considerable wealth.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has 20 listings of persons by the name of Lucas who were residents of Pennsylvania and heads of families at that time.

Seventy years later, the Federal Population Census of Ohio for the year 1860 contained 355 listings of persons by the name of Lucas, two of whom lived in Adams County. The latter were Susan Lucas, of Green Township, and M. C. Lucas, of Franklin Township.

One of the prominent and early settlers of Adams County was Joseph Lucas (1771-1808) who was the son of the above-mentioned Captain William Lucas and came to the Northwest Territory in 1797 with his brother, William, and located in Rush County which was then in Adams County but now is in Scioto County. Joseph Lucas was one of the three representatives from Adams County in the first legislature of Ohio which was in session in Chillicothe from March 1, 1803 to April 15, 1803. At that session, Scioto County was organized and Joseph Lucas was one of its associate judges until his death. Another brother, Robert Lucas, was governor of Ohio from 1832 to 1836.

Daniel Bedinger Lucas (1836-1909) was U.S. Senator from West Virginia and later served as judge, Supreme Court of Appeals of the state.

Robert H. Lucas, (1888-1947), an attorney of note, practiced his profession in Louisville, Ky. during the early years of his career and later served as executive director of the Republican National Committee, with offices in Washington, D. C. for the 17 year period preceding his death.

Robert Elwood Lucas is president, Wilmington College, Wilmington, Ohio.

J. Robert Lucas is professor of mining and minerals engineering, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va.

Jesse Coberly, formerly of Newport, is farming near Chula, Mo.

John Waters is farming near Axtel, Kansas.

Mac Gill, a former school teacher of Lafayette, has been for many years located at Baxter Spring, Kans. We are unable to say what Mac is doing of late years.

Sam Lenhart, a former carriage manufacturer of London, is now, after roving about the Northwest considerably, working at his trade in Helena, Mont.

Luther Custer, formerly of Range township, is farming in Ford county, Kansas.

A. W. Cosgrove, telegrapher, is located at Hepler, Kans.

W. A. Howsman, of Range township, is living in or near Linwood, Kans.

The postoffice address of Thomas Higgins is Kansas City. Dr. Tom McClintick is practicing medicine in same city.

Dr. E. G. Keifer, a former physician of Summerford, has a lucrative practice at Harvey, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago.

Phil. D. Koontz, only son of the late W. A. Koontz, Esq., is living in Georgetown, Texas, and engaged in farming. Adam Lander, formerly of Range township, is living in same neighborhood.

W. W. Oberdier, formerly of London, moved to Toledo several years ago, where he is engaged at his vocation of plastering. Mr. O. has lost by death four members of his family since locating in that city.

John M. Paine is now located at Helena, Montana, and holds a good place in a large carriage factory.

Walter Barrett is engaged in mining at Sunset, Col.

D. W. Finley and John Daley, formerly of Monroe township, are farming in Nebraska, the first named in Dawes county and the latter in Merrick county.

William Gilmartin, a former Londonattorney, is located at Lincoln, Neb.

John and Ed. Borland are engaged in getting out railroad ties at Burnside, Kentucky.

A. C. Willett, M.C. Cramblitt, Thos. Bragg, David Shaw, Arthur Johnston and Samuel Watkins are farming near Cloverdale, Ala.

Emery Hall, son of the late Foster Hall, is practicing law at Oneonta, Ala.

Lieut. Eugene T. Wilson, U. S. Army, is stationed at Angeles Island, near San Francisco.

W. Staley Shepherd lives in Mechanicsburg; his son, Chester C. is a patent attorney in Columbus, and his oldest son, Levin, is in the insurance and real estate business in Duluth, Minn.

Billy O'Neil, a former London poultry dealer, is farming near Currie, Minn.

T. J. Porter and R. B. Cowling are traveling for New York houses.

Ex-Postmaster Jas. Crain, Cincinnati, traveling for an Eastern cloak house.

Preston Hardcastle, Chicago, manager of Mills & Gibbs' wholesale curtain and lace dealers. Hardy is prosperous. His friend, P. Lackey, also a London boy, is getting rich in the dry goods trade in Chicago.

The widow of Ex-County Commissioner Wm. Hall lives at Red Oak, Iowa, with her son Richard. Her oldest son Laban, lives in Stranbury, Mo. Her daughter, Mrs. Etta Gordin, married wealthy and lives in Kearney, Neb.

Gen. Darius B. and Captain James M. Warner are in the wholesale lumber business at St. John, N. B. Their sister, Mrs. Lyde Baker, is the wife of a prominent Chicago attorney.

John W. Ray located in Guthrie, Oklahoma, four years ago and made a mint of money in the boom.

Dr. A. L. Brown, a former dentist of our town, has been for a number of years located at Eustis, Florida, engaged in orange culture. Our old friend added "J. P." to his official signature a few years ago.

Wm. Newton Byers, a former Lilly Chapel boy, is one of the best known wealthy residents of Denver, Col., and is the founder of the Rocky Mountain News. Prof. James Freeman, formerly of this county, is one of the editors of that paper.

Senator Allen, of Nebraska, the Populist leader, was born in Range township and acquired his early education at Danville, where his mother taught school.

BIG PLAIN

Susan(Eyler)Mayhugh, aged 82, was born in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, in 1827. On April 14, 1846, she was united in marriage to Washington Mayhugh, and in 1857 they emigrated to Ohio. They settled in Franklin county, but in 1862 they removed to the vicinity of Big Plain, where they have made their permanent home. Thus Mrs. Mayhugh has lived in and near Big Plain for 46 years, and is one of our oldest citizens.

Dianah(Peele)Cochrun, aged 89, was born on the banks of the James river, in Bottentot county, Virginia, in 1820. Her father emigrated to Ohio in 1827 and settled in Franklin county. With the exception of one year, Mrs. Cochrun has lived within 15 miles of Big Plain ever since coming to Ohio.

When these pioneers came to Madison county the greater part of the county was woodlands. They did not then enjoy the blessings of gravelled roads, the free school and the many other evidences of our national prosperity. However, that day is past; America is now in the vanguard of civilization. When we consider that these venerable ladies were among the number that helped to claim Ohio for civilization, we feel that to them we owe a debt of gratitude. May their declining days be days of peace--peace springing from the knowledge of the fact that though hardships encompassed them, yet they remained true to the call of duty.
